

Rev. Dr. Annette Jackson has faithfully served in ministry leadership for over two decades, including 17 years as Senior Pastor at The Church of Columbus and 4 years as Interim Pastor at Mt. Gerizim Baptist Church. Dr. Jackson is a proud member and Associate Minister of New Salem Baptist Church. She is a certified Transitional & Transformational Life Coach, a Conference and Motivational Speaker, and a published national and international bestselling Author. Her voice has reached many through co-hosting the Anointed to Win weekly radio broadcast on KGGR Gospel Radio, Dallas, Texas, and the Anointed to Win Christian Women's Talk Show. She also an International Ambassador for the Universal Church Lagos, Nigeria. Dr. Jackson's advocacy work reflects her deep commitment to justice, inclusion, and healing. She champions causes such as Down syndrome awareness, domestic violence prevention, and social justice—serving alongside organizations like the Amos Project, the Reformation Coalition, and One Linden. She is a board member of the Community of Caring Development Foundation and a member of Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, Incorporated.

Dr. Jackson is equipped with academic foundations from Ohio Christian University, Newburgh Theological Seminary, Grand Canyon University, and leadership training through ABLP (Ohio Leadership Academy), S.A.L.T., and Leadership Linden Academy (Class of 2025). Dr. Jackson brings wisdom, vision, and heart to every space she inhabits. She believes leadership is not a title but a call to serve with authenticity and courage. She invites emerging and seasoned leaders alike to rise, reflect, and respond—cultivating voices that heal, uplift, and transform communities. Whether in the pulpit, at the podium, or within everyday moments of compassion, she calls forth a new generation to lead with purpose, humility, and the boldness of faith.
