

Tiffane Warren is a visionary leader, educator, and ministry practitioner with over 20 years of experience in education, youth development, and faith-based service. A proud HBCU graduate of Kentucky State University, Tiffane holds a Bachelor of Arts in Secondary Education and earned her Master of Science in Educational Leadership from Capella University, where she is currently pursuing a Doctor of Education (Ed.D.) in Curriculum and Instruction.

Her professional journey spans classroom teaching, school administration, and district-level leadership, where she has designed and led instructional programs, developed strategic initiatives, and built systems that drive academic excellence. Tiffane has successfully secured grant funding to launch innovative programs, expand college and career pathways, and support student engagement. She has also led major facility planning efforts, including the opening of a new high school and operational management of a $2.2 million renovation, demonstrating her ability to lead both programmatic and operational aspects of educational institutions.

Tiffane's passion for youth development extends beyond education into ministry. For nearly two decades, she has served as the leader of Divine Purpose Youth Dance Ministry, guiding adolescents in spiritual formation through devotion, movement, and creative expression. Her work has empowered youth to grow in faith and leadership through worship arts. In addition, Tiffane has traveled internationally to support literacy missions and worship arts intensives, using her expertise and heart for magnification to uplift global communities through reading, faith, and service.

As Director of Life Development, Tiffane will provide dynamic, future-focused leadership for the spiritual growth and development of youth (grades 6–12) and their families. She will lead a comprehensive, Christ-centered ministry grounded in cultural responsiveness, biblical truth, and alignment with the church's mission. Her vision is to nurture the next generation of African American leaders within a vibrant, urban congregation—equipping them to live boldly and confidently in their God-given purpose.

Tiffane believes that transformation happens when people are truly seen, supported, and spiritually developed. Through intentional leadership and strategic vision, she creates environments where both young people and adults can flourish. She is a servant leader who brings energy, purpose, and authenticity to every space she enters.

Tiffane is married to Keith Warren, and together they are the proud parents of three vivacious children: Tyice, Troy, and Kaubrey.
